

NSMS Hawk Talk

Notes & News from the Home of the Hawks

Update: Week of Oct. 16 - 20

ÍY SÇÁCÉL (Good Day). We have had a very busy two weeks in the Hawks Nest. Last week we hosted the Indigenous Peoples Atlas of Canada floor map in the MPR. It is an amazing resource and our students were able to interact with it in a meaningful way. The map will be returning to NSMS from April 29 - May 5.

At our Monday Morning Assembly Div 2 shared information about our We Scare Hunger Food Drive in support of our local food bank. Please send non-perishable goods with your student over the next week. We celebrated student birthdays, started a new challenge called "Where's That Hawk" and got in the Halloween Spirit with a spooky Minute To Win It challenge. Go Hawks!

Today we participated in the Great BC Shakeout, along with millions of people worldwide, to practise how to "Drop, Cover and Hold On". Thanks to Mr. Newlove and our Health and Safety Team for their ongoing leadership in keeping us safe at NSMS.

Just a reminder that Friday October 20th is a Professional Development Day.
